III. Brief History and Context of Formation of the Directorate of Higher Education

The Directorate of Higher Education (DHE) was carved out of the Directorate of Education in the year 1996 with an objective to provide quality higher education to stakeholders irrespective of their caste, creed, sex, race, religion, region, urban and rural.

Soon after Goa's liberation in 1961, a few colleges started and were affiliated with Bombay University. Most colleges flourished in the state during the 90's after the establishment of Goa University in 1984. Today from north to south and west to east, almost every taluka is dotted with Higher Educational Institutes (HEI) as a result of which the Literacy and Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER) of the State have increased substantially.

The Directorate of Higher Education supports higher education in various streams such as Arts, Commerce, Science, Education, Law, Journalism, Mass Communication, Agriculture, Nursing, Vocation, Business Administration, Music, Home Science, Fine Art, Theatre Arts, Hospitality, and Fashion.

Presently, the Directorate of Higher Education is involved in the planning, administration and funding of 39 Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) which includes 07 Government Colleges, 31 Non-Government Aided Colleges and the Goa University. Of the 39 Higher Educational Institutions, 25 HEIs are NAAC Accredited, and 7 Colleges have undergone 4th Cycle of NAAC which is a remarkable achievement for the State of Goa. About 32 per cent of the NAAC-assessed Colleges have achieved 'A+' or 'A' grades.

The Directorate of Higher Education is working tirelessly to achieve access, equity, quality, affordability & accountability in higher education which are also the pillars of National Education Policy 2020. To provide quality education to its stakeholders, the Directorate has signed Memorandum of Understanding (MoUs) with some of the globally reputed Institutes like the Indian Institute of Social Science-Mumbai (IISS), Indian Institute of Science-Bangalore (IISC), Indian Institute of Technology-Goa (IIT), Indian Institute of Technology- Gandhinagar (IIT), and Goa Institute of Management (GIM).

IV. Best Practices of the Directorate of Higher Education

The Directorate of Higher Education is known for innovative and best practices. Some are as follows:

An online learning initiative called "Digital Integrated System for Holistic Teaching and Virtual Orientations" (DISHTAVO). It is a first-of-its-kind initiative in the country which provides e-learning content to the students of Under Graduate (UG) courses in four quadrant format. This platform provides 21000 recorded lectures by the faculty members. This in-house project is included in the NSDL Library.

A Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) known as MANDAVI which delivers learning content online to any learner.

NET/SET Mentoring Programme for prospective teachers and researchers.

Establishment of Research Clusters in Government and Aided Colleges to provide access to research in Colleges.
